County Schools Get Accreditation For Grades K-12

For the first time in the history of Coffee County schools, three of the institutions will be fully accredited, accreditations.

Superintendent John W. Vaughan was notified this week that Kinston, New Brockton and Zion Chapel schools have been approved for accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. None of the county schools have been accredited by this organization in the past.

"This culminates three years of hard work by the faculty, staff, and entire school system," said Vaughan.

A state commission approved the accreditation last week. However, the schools will not actually be admitted into the Southern Association until its regional meeting which will be held in Dallas, Texas during December.

According to Vaughan, the accreditation is a verification of the high quality of education offered by these three schools. "It's a matter of proving the excellence of the schools."

All schools in the Coffee County system are state accredited and Elba and Enterprise city schools are accredited both by the state and Southern Association. However, many county schools throughout the state are not accredited by both.

In order to receive full accreditation, many changes were required to be made in the curriculum of grades K-12 at the schools. Vaughan said the move toward accreditation began several months before he was appointed superintendent, and has been one of the top priorities of his administration.

The process has taken three years to complete. According to the superintendent, the first year was primarily devoted to self study during which teachers had to identify the philosophy of the individual schools and outline the course of study in each subject area.

The second year involved preparing of the reports compiled during the first year and statistical analysis of the data collected.

After all the paperwork was completed and various changes made at the schools, accreditation teams, each consisting of 15 members, visited the school during the third year. It was the duty of these teams to make reports on the visits, offer suggestions to school officials, and finally, to recommend that the schools be denied or granted accreditation.

The only schools in the system which are not fully accredited now are Goodman and New Hope. Vaughan added that this does not mean the quality of education at these schools is inferior. Because of the sizes of these schools and financial limitations, he said, there are certain requirements—such as employing a full-time librarian and guidance counselor—for accreditation which cannot be met presently.

"We are tremendously proud of our accreditation, especially to achieve it during proration and a time of financial restrictions," said Vaughan. "It is also unique for us since most systems go for one school at a time. Instead we went for all three at once."

He noted that the process of trying to achieve accreditation led school officials to implement better instructional programs.

"It also gave us more direction in our math program and we saw weaknesses in the libraries which we hope we have begun to correct," Vaughan continued. "It also led to a better coordination of curriculum from one grade to the next."

"I think it indicates we're providing quality education for every boy and girl in this county."

The schools will be re-evaluated every five years to maintain its accreditation.

REVIEWING ACCREDITATION—Coffee County Superintendent of Education John W. Vaughan (standing) informs board members Harrell Carroll, Frank Britt, and Preston Kelley Jr. of notification he received this week that Kinston, New Brockton, and Zion Chapel schools have been approved for accreditation.

Largest Budget Approved For Coffee County Schools

The Coffee County Board of Education approved a $3.5 million operating budget for the 1981-82 school year during a meeting Tuesday morning. It is the largest budget ever approved for the county system.

While many local school systems have already warned about having to operate under financially strangled budgets, Coffee County's has a $20,000 surplus budgeted at the end of the year.

to act as a "built-in cushion" in case proration is passed on to public schools in Alabama again this year or to cover any unforeseen emergencies.

Superintendent John Vaughan told the board members that while no wasteful spending is included in the budget, there is enough anticipated revenue to allow school officials more "breathing room" than they have been accustomed to during the past three years. He added, though, that the soundness of the budget is dependent on state and local monies coming in as anticipated.

"We hope we're able to live within this budget and I hope we will receive the revenues we're expecting," noted Vaughan. "This is better budget financially than we've had the last several years, but when you consider we're overdue for new school buses and building repairs because of proration, the budget is not that good."

He said many of the items included in the tentative budget have been overestimated in case of proration so the schools can absorb much of the blow if it does occur again.

The budget also includes $360,000 for capital outlay expenses, with $132,000 of that total budgeted for five new school buses. The remainder of the estimated capital outlay costs is $51,036 for furniture and instructional equipment at the schools; $38,000 for welding and audio visual equipment at the vocational departments; and $150,000 for renovation work at the schools.

Vaughan said the $150,000 is probably an excessive figure but he noted that there may be a possibility of some matching state funds. If any of this money is offered then Coffee County will have money in capital outlay funds to match it. While some of the buildings need quite a bit of work, Vaughan said only about $60,000 will probably be spent for alterations. He also added that the physical plants are probably in the best condition the students and faculty have seen for the past 25 years.

As is the case with all public schools in Alabama, the bulk of Coffee County's revenue comes from the state—$2.3 million, which primarily covers salaries and fixed charges for teachers, support personnel, and other staff members. The federal government is expected to contribute $426,000 during the 81-82 year. The remaining revenue comes from a five mill county tax and a seven mill district tax. According to Vaughan, both of these revenues will be down from last year's total due to a home-stead exemption for taxpayers 65 years and older which directly affects school taxes. Revenue from the county's five mill tax is estimated at $245,000 of which the county schools get only $65,000 and the remainder goes to Elba and Enterprise city schools. The district tax is expected to generate $295,000. Other revenue comes from rent of school buildings, food services, and the sale of property.

The largest line item expenditure in the budget is $2.2 million for instruction. This cost covers salaries for teachers, principals, vocational supervisors, counselors, teacher aides, travel, secretaries, library supplies, and various instructional materials.

Vaughan said he budgeted $25,000 for library services which is a larger amount than normal because the libraries are in dire need of new books and equipment.

The estimated expenditures for general control is $95,285 and includes salaries for the superintendent, clerical assistants, legal fees, and travel expense for the superintendent and board members.

"Approximately 85 percent of our budget is earmarked for salaries and another 15 percent is earmarked for transportation. So we only have discretion over about eight percent of our total revenue," said Vaughan.

The budget includes $223,386 for transportation, but Vaughan said more funds will probably have to be added to this item before the year is over.

Unruly Prophet Arrested for Striking Cop

A simple report of a man walking in the road on Highway 84 East turned out to be the beginning of a wild experience for Elba Police and officers at the Coffee County Jail on Monday, Oct. 19.

The New Brockton Police Dept. called on Monday to report a man walking in the middle of the road on Hwy. 84, and Elba patrolman Randy Paul went out to investigate. Upon arriving, Paul reported the man was walking on the side of the road, but would jump out in the road when a car would approach, forcing cars to slam on brakes and leave the road to avoid hitting him.

The man then told the patrolman the end of the world was coming, and he was going to be beside his car in a circle he had drawn. He also stated he was going to set the circle on fire later that night. Paul reported every time he would approach the man, the man would stick his hand in his pocket. New Brockton police and the Elba animal warden arrived at the scene and tried to assist Paul in catching the elusive walker, but he ran across the railroad tracks and hit Paul with a stick when caught. Before being caught, the man told the policeman to go ahead and shoot because bullets couldn't hurt him.

The three law enforcement officers finally handcuffed the man and took him to the county jail. While at the jail, he took off his clothes and tried to flush them down a toilet, prompting jailers to put him in a straight-jacket. The mysterious inmate escaped from the straight-jacket and set a mattress on fire before jailers could subdue him and reapply restraints.

The man was identified as a former mental patient at Mt. Vernon, where he was released. He is scheduled to be returned to the hospital this week.

VA Recipients Need to Report Annual Income

Veterans Administration annual income reporting period is fast approaching, according to John H. Taylor, the State Department of Veterans Affairs Service Officer for Coffee County.

Taylor says that all veterans, surviving spouses and children in receipt of Improved Pension, veterans and surviving spouses in receipt of Old Law and Section 306 pension, parents in receipt of death compensation, Dependency and Indemnity Compensation, and dependent parents of service-connected veterans receiving payments should get a VA income questionnaire on or about November 1, 1981.

Some beneficiaries who have attained age 72 or older and children in receipt of Old Law and Section 306 pension will not receive an income questionnaire this year. The questionnaires should be completed and returned to the VA no later than January 1, 1982. Failure to do this will automatically suspend all payments on February 1, 1982.

Those needing assistance in completing these forms, or assistance with other matters relating to veterans' benefits, are invited to contact Taylor. His office is located in the courthouse annex, Elba, and his phone number is 897-2924.

Att. General Against Divine's Early Release

Alabama Attorney General Charles Graddick has formally opposed the early parole of 48 Alabama prison inmates whose parole eligibility dates were accelerated six months by a federal court order issued July 15.

Among those paroled opposed by Graddick is that of Alan Lonzo Divine, serving a life sentence for killing Elba policeman Herman Driggers in 1964. He was originally sentenced to death by electrocution and the sentence was later commuted to life imprisonment.

Graddick wrote in his formal report to the State Pardons and Parole Board: "The murder committed by this inmate was the result of an ambush slaying of an Elba, Alabama, police officer and the critical wounding of a sheriff's deputy. The law enforcement officers involved in this case were attempting to serve an arrest warrant which resulted from an assault upon the inmate's father by the inmate. As the law enforcement officers were attempting to serve the warrant, the inmate while in hiding shot and killed the Elba police officer and severely wounded the sheriff's deputy. The law enforcement officers familiar with this case are most vehement in stating that the circumstances surrounding this case were most heinous."

When the early release was ordered in July, former Coffee County District Attorney Lewey Stephens said he would do whatever he could to prevent Divine's release. Stephens and G.A. Lindsey prosecuted the case.

Court records in Coffee County show that Divine had been arrested several times prior to the murder arrest for violent crimes and once for indecent molestation of a child.

Sherling Gets Confirmation

Ed Sherling, owner of Ed Sherling Ford in Enterprise and a former Ford dealer in Elba, has been confirmed by the Alabama Senate as a member of the State Ethics Commission. He was nominated last week by Governor Fob James.

Sherling and James were roommates at Auburn University. Appointment to the five-member board is for a five-year term which began immediately.

The Senior Citizen Center, in Elba is a busy place each weekday with local residents involving themselves in arts and crafts, recreational activities, and various other events. A feature on the center is included on Page 12 of today's Clipper.

Halloween, with all its ghosts and goblins, is just around the corner. The Elba Rescue Squad is sponsoring a Haunted House, beginning at 7 p.m. next Monday. Admission to the spook-filled residence will be $2.00. The house is located directly behind the Riviera Motel before crossing the Pea River Bridge.

Brainstorms

By FERRIN COX

Last week in a front page editorial we pointed out the conflict in Alabama law and the local probate judge receiving a regular monthly $450 expense allowance in addition to his salary. Since that time we have had numerous people ask us, "What are they going to do about it?" Well, we don't know the answer to that, but we do know the seven members of the commissioners court and know they strive to maintain a reputation as honorable men. It is our opinion that honorable men would want this cleared up immediately and would either stop the practice because this reporter was right and they know it, or would get a clearer (?) reading on the finer points of the law from someone more versed in such matters. Regardless of the direction they choose, surely they will either not submit anymore claims for the payment of a majority of the commissioners will refuse to sign the claim until the attorney general ruling is changed or overturned by the courts. If they can find no other reason to stop the monthly payments, it would hush a pain-in-the-neck editor.

Last week we had a letter to the editor from our "former" friend Bill Stokes. He wanted a correction in Brainstorms this week and here is what he will get. Now, Bill is learned in the law (well he got a law degree from the University of Alabama) and he knows he told this editor and another lawyer who was present and in court witnessed by a sitting judge of the State of Alabama, of HB big fish, how HE caught it and the cost of mounting. However, he stumbled a bit on the cost of mounting and this was our first clue that the story was a "real" fish story. The same judge also laughed when we'd editor responded to his offer to teach us something. "If we had the money" and he was shown 32 cents in change and told the two of us could buy all Bill's fishing knowledge and still have change left over. We also have heard that when the real owner of that fish asked for his trophy back, Stokes begged to keep it "a few more days" because an out-of-town lawyer he had bragged to wouldn't believe it if the fish was not hanging on the wall when he came to Elba.... Give up Bill, 'cause we buy our ink by the barrel and paper by the ton!

It is now official. President Reagan announced this week that the country is in a recession. Well everything we have read for months pointed out economic problems in almost every sector of the economy. If this acknowledgment will spur improvement, we are happy to hear it, however, until interest rates drop and people have some assurance the rates will stay down, we can forget any magical recovery of the American economy.

Last Friday night we saw Houston County Sheriff A.B. Clark at the Elba-Ashford ballgame. We have known Sheriff Clark for several years and he has always seemed to be an intelligent man. We won't touch the charges of the grand jury indictment of Sheriff Clark, but we were shocked to read where a Houston County employee has filed charges against him for verbal harassment. In our business we have asked Clark some pretty pointed questions and he has always been the gentleman and law officer.

The matter of interest rates on money is always good for a discussion when talking with bankers or people who must cope with the rising cost of borrowing money. Currently we have no problem finding experts who will tell us interest rates are getting ready to drop back to reasonable levels and then within minutes, find another expert who will explain just why rates will climb even higher. We have friends on both sides of this theory and we agree with our friends!

Governor Fob James has been quoted as thinking he has a new ally in his effort to unmark state tax funds. The anticipated increase in income from the eight percent tax on oil wells is the juicy item Fob hopes will put education forces on his side. However he must realize that any big increase in taxes from the Mobile Bay drilling is years away... if ever. We too favor unmarking but don't expect Paul Hubbard and company to jump on the bandwagon until they have exhausted other means of getting a piece of the fresh pie.

Several years ago we failed in our efforts to get an active Chamber of Commerce working again in Elba and while we were considering support of a proposal to join with Enterprise in a county-wide chamber, that infamous resolution on the courthouse issue killed any hope of that idea bearing fruit. Now for some time we have been getting questions from business folks asking "Why don't we have a Chamber of Commerce?" It is a good question, Why?

We continue to hear complaints about the service from the cable TV service and complaints from people who want the service and can't get a tumble from the company. Saturday, Norman Johns will be displaying a solution to this problem for those seriously wanting relief. You can find his advertisement on one of the sports pages of this week's paper.

Many Alabama Families to Lose Aid to Dependent Children

About 100 families will be dropped from Alabama's Aid to Dependent Children program this month. Next month and on through February, at least 4,500 more families will see their checks reduced or terminated.

Rebecca B. Beasley, acting commissioner of the Department of Pensions and Security, said recently that, in coming months, many more of the state's 58,000 ADC families will feel the effect of new federal legislation aimed at cutting the cost of public welfare nationwide.

The cuts, she said, result from the same federal law that brought about reductions in food stamps and social services.

The 100 families eliminated from the program this month represent households receiving payments under $10 a month. A new federal rule sets the minimum ADC payment at $10. Alabama's minimum, up to now, had been $7 a month.

"The new federal law maintains Medicaid coverage for families dropped because of the change in the minimum payment," Mrs. Beasley said. "These particular households will continue to have access to free medical care, although they'll no longer receive a monthly check."

The 4,500 families to experience cuts next month and on through February are all working households affected by new restrictions on the way earnings are treated in the ADC program. About 1,500 of those families will have their monthly checks terminated, and the remaining 3,000 will see their assistance reduced.

Additional families will be affected by a new rule requiring income of step-parents to be counted in determining eligibility and benefits.

Some families will lose eligibility because of regulations limiting their resources—such as cash on hand and money in the bank—to $1,000. Under the old rules, families could keep their eligibility as long as they had less than $1,750 in resources.

A highly technical but important change limits ADC eligibility to families with gross incomes under 150 percent of the state's "standard of need." The need standard is a money figure, different from state to state, on which payments are based.

As a result of this change, a family of three in Alabama does not qualify for ADC if its gross income is above $576 a month. A family of three with close to that income receives only a very small payment.

In the fiscal year that ended September 30, ADC benefits totaling $80 million were paid to Alabama families eligible for the aid. The federal government supplied 71 percent of the cost and the state the rest.

The typical ADC family of three in Alabama receives a check averaging $108 a month. The assistance is only for children who have lost the support of one or both parents through death, disability or continued absence from the home.

AROUND THE TOWN

By NELLIE MARTIN

Oh yes, John Glen and Mary Alice, Lyle and Judy were right there in plenty of time to see and enjoy all the exciting activities. Right there was the air force base at Columbus, Mississippi; at this noted base many have been the honors received by candidates that were eligible and qualified.

Well, the distinguished and handsome John Hughes, husband of daughter Judy, held a distinctive place in the promotion line. Judy had the pleasure of pinning the silver pilot wings on John's specially tailored uniform, giving him a lot of distinction that goes with the title of First Lt. John Hughes.

To make this a happy and complete family affair, Judy's brother, Joe Lee, and his special friend, the adorable Melinda Nelson, were there for this memorable occasion. After only a short visit with the Hughes' and enjoying this memorable event, duty brought them two back to Elba.

PASTOR'S CORNER

WHITEWATER BAPTIST

The path of least resistance is the most profitable. But we seem to want those things that require the least in return from us.

If I were a running back on a football team, I would run behind those who were running interference for me, but it would still take alertness and effort on my part. I also must recognize that I couldn't do without my blockers; without them I would be smeared.

Life is very similar to many games we play. There are those who assume leadership, those who run interference, and those of us who receive the benefits. But we must be willing to put forth effort and assume our responsibility.

There are those who enjoy freedom, but aren't willing to defend that freedom. There aren't many countries where a person is as free to do and express themselves as here in the United States. I talked with two young men recently who assured me that we were not a free nation, and in a second breath expressed the need, in their opinion, for a revolution in the United States. I wondered how many other nations there are that would allow this particular view to be expressed publicly on the street, and the persons remain free, or even alive.

The Bible warns us that in our enjoyment of daily blessings, we must be careful not to forget God's sacrifice by someone else. It also warns us that the way of least resistance is broad and destructive, but the most beneficial and rewarding way is hard and demanding.

We have often been told that anything worth having will come at tremendous cost. The Bible teaches that those who remain faithful regardless of cost will be rewarded.

Osburn impressed with student body

Have you met our new superintendent, John Osburn? If so, you have met a man who is dedicated, qualified, sincere, and concerned about the welfare of students in the Elba school system.

Osburn is well prepared to be an excellent superintendent. After his graduation from Smith Station High School, he received a B.S. from Livingston University, where he attended on a football scholarship.

Osburn also earned a masters degree in school administration from Georgia State University. He acquired on-the-job training as an eleventh grade American history teacher, a head football coach and athletic director, assistant principal, principal, and assistant superintendent. Osburn is currently enrolled in the doctoral program in education administration at Auburn University.

Many duties keep Osburn busy. He explained that his job as superintendent is "to oversee the total operation of the school system." This job involves budget preparation and administration, personnel functions, providing direction to the different principals in matters that might need interpretation, and, said Osburn, "everything from the feeding of lunch to the busing of students."

Osburn said, "I am extremely grateful to the school faculty and the student body for the warm reception." And, the students are grateful for his commitment, his interest, and his coming to Elba.

The citizens of Elba have looked forward to having Osburn as school superintendent as of September 1, and to having the Osburns in the community.

Osburn said, "I am extremely grateful to the school faculty and the student body for the warm reception." And, the students are grateful for his commitment, his interest, and his coming to Elba.

Band rates top scores

The Elba Marching Tiger Band traveled to Birmingham Saturday to compete in the Hoover Invitational Marching Festival held at Berry High School. More than 30 bands entered the contest.

Elba's band entered Class AA along with eight other bands; Elba received superior ratings from all three judges and finished second in the class. Pinson Valley of Birmingham won the class, beating Elba by only two points.

Drum Major Steve Thompson received a superior rating from the drum major judge. The Elba majorettes received a superior rating and also had the highest score in their class. The color guard and percussion sections both received excellent ratings.

According to Band Director Steve Thompson, "This was an extremely difficult contest for this time of year; however, the band worked hard and was prepared. The judging was very thorough, especially in the color guard and percussion categories, and we received some excellent comments to help us prepare for the Enterprise and Troy contests later this month."

The PSAT/NMSQT gives students a chance to find out what the College Board's SAT is like, and helps them in planning for college; further, students who opt to participate in the College Board Student Search Service have an opportunity to hear from colleges that they might not otherwise learn about. The PSAT/NMSQT is also the qualifying test for the Enterprise or Troy contest and support the Marching Tigers." Thompson added.

"This year's band is one of the best bands Elba has ever had. I don't think the people of Elba realize how difficult the work and music really are. I greatly appreciate the fine work these young people have done, and I also hope the fine supporters of our band will attend the Enterprise or Troy contest and support the Marching Tigers." Thompson added.

The bands alternately played their favorite songs until the rain finally brought an end to the big blow-out. As usual, there was no clear winner. The only victory was in the opinion expressed by each school, and the competition was in the spirit of friendship.

Entertainment at the pageant will be provided by band director Randall Myers, and basketball coach Mike Lindsey.

Rebel, and the Confederate flag were painted on the two new buildings, along with the words "Zion Chapel High School—Home of the Rebels."

The artists were Eugene Hendrick and Charley Fildis from the Pepsi Cola Bottling Company in Luverne. Pepsi Cola paints for schools who use their products. Their purpose is public service and advertisement.

The president will be Allison Maddox. Selected to serve with her was: Vice President Denise Lott, Secretary Janet Stewart, Treasurer Donna Foley, Historian Ann Sawyer, Reporter Glenda Holcomb, Parliamentarian Scott Costner, and Recreation Leader Nae Dean Wheeler.

These students will lead the FHA organization in some interesting experiences and projects during this school year.

They have chosen Project Independence as their community project for this year.

In addition to having an original commercial, each person had to supply his or her own props. This activity was new to the students, but it was interesting to see the creativity displayed.

Students preparing for tests

John W. Sharpless, counselor at Elba High School, has announced that new services introduced last year as part of the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) will again be provided to students taking the test on October 27, 1981.

Before the test, students will receive the PSAT/NMSQT Student Bulletin, which contains a complete sample test with an answer key and scoring instructions. In December, students will receive a Report of Student Answers which displays the correct answers and the students' responses as well as scores. Schools will return test booklets at the same time so that students can review the original questions. Students will also receive About Your PSAT/NMSQT Scores, a booklet containing information on interpreting PSAT/NMSQT results and on general college planning.

The PSAT/NMSQT is co-sponsored by the College Board and National Merit Scholarship Corporation. It is administered annually to more than one million students and measures verbal and mathematical abilities that are important in college work.

The PSAT/NMSQT gives students a chance to find out what the College Board's SAT is like, and helps them in planning for college; further, students who opt to participate in the College Board Student Search Service have an opportunity to hear from colleges that they might not otherwise learn about. The PSAT/NMSQT is also the qualifying test for the Enterprise or Troy contest and support the Marching Tigers." Thompson added.

Seniors wait for portraits

By KIM WHITMAN
Senior portraits were made on Thursday, Sept. 17, from 12:00 until 3:00 at the high school by School Pictures, Inc., of Enterprise. The girls selected from a wide variety of drapery colors in which they were photographed. The boys wore the traditional suits and ties.

The seniors received their portraits at the school. As was expected, some were disappointed with droopy hairstyles and closed eyes. However, almost everyone found at least one suitable portrait. Seniors ordered their portraits in a variety of different package sizes on October 13.

On October 3, members of the junior and senior classes at Elba High School attended a dance given in honor of two students at EHS—Charlie Marler and Bama Donaldson. Hosts for the party, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce

Vice-president Charlie Marler made a motion that he will organize this year for our money project. The motion was seconded and passed. Johnny Maddox made a motion that we buy a parts cleaning kit for the Agribusiness shop. The motion was seconded and passed.

President Meacham recognized those who received their State Farmer degrees last year. They were: John Meacham, Charlie Marler, Randy Beck, Jimmy Jurask, Johnny Maddox, Gary Weeks, Keith Rushing and Keith Lewis.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served in the shop.

TIGER MASCOTS—The varsity cheerleaders have added two new members to their squad this year—mascots Misty Whitehead and Miti Marler. Before school started this year, tryout were held for seventh grade girls who wanted to be mascots. The girls were selected on the basis of spirit, acrobatic abilities, and cheering.

Spectators Get Added Excitement

By RICKY NICKOLSON
In addition to seeing the football players battle it out, the spectators of Friday night's football game between Zion Chapel and New Brockton received a little added excitement.

The ZC marching band and the NB marching band remained after the game to have the annual "Battle of the Bands."

The bands alternately played their favorite songs until the rain finally brought an end to the big blow-out. As usual, there was no clear winner. The only victory was in the opinion expressed by each school, and the competition was in the spirit of friendship.

ZC Beauty Pageant To Be Held

By RICKY NICKOLSON
Each year Mrs. Rachel Bryan's Journalism class sponsors a beauty pageant. The class always strives to make the pageant better than the one before, and this year is no exception.

The date of the pageant is November 3, and the Journalism class will soon have the entry forms ready, so be sure to see a staff member and get yours.

Three beauties will be chosen to feature in the yearbook: an elementary beauty from grades kindergarten through fourth, a junior beauty from grades five through eighth, and a senior beauty from grades nine through twelve.

In the elementary category, contestants are asked to wear good street clothes. In the junior beauty category, contestants should wear evening gowns.

In each category, four runners-up will be selected in addition to the winner. The decision will be made by a panel of five judges.

Entertainment at the pageant will be provided by band director Randall Myers, and basketball coach Mike Lindsey.

Rebel, and the Confederate flag were painted on the two new buildings, along with the words "Zion Chapel High School—Home of the Rebels."

The artists were Eugene Hendrick and Charley Fildis from the Pepsi Cola Bottling Company in Luverne. Pepsi Cola paints for schools who use their products. Their purpose is public service and advertisement.

Elba Senior Citizens Enjoy Crafts and Games at Center

By NITA LACEY
If you are an Elba area citizen of 60 or more years of age, entertainment is available for you five days a week.

Senior citizens, regardless of income, may participate in the Senior Citizens Program at the American Legion building across from Northwood Plaza. If someone who wants to attend is over 60, but his or her spouse is under 60, an allowance is made for the younger spouse so that they may attend together.

Each day, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., people gather there to play bingo and dominoes, or to work on arts and crafts, as well as piece and quilt quilts. If none of these diversions strikes your fancy, you can just visit with friends. Also, a hot, well-balanced lunch is served each day. Morrison's Food Service, Inc. is the food vendor for the nutrition program.

Transportation is provided for persons who do not have a way to get to the center. Also, for persons 55 or older who live within the Elba police jurisdiction, transportation is provided for trips to the doctor, to buy groceries, etc. You do not necessarily have to be a participant in the regular program to have this service.

For more information about this or any other part of the senior citizens program, call Mrs. LaRue Dunaway, center manager, at 897-3051 (home phone 897-7070). The center is open 8 a.m. to 3 p.m., Monday through Friday.

In addition to these daily services, the center has four sections each quarter (every three months), on health and welfare counseling, consumer education and nutrition education.

According to Mrs. Dunaway, the Senior Citizen Program began here in 1976. It is administered under the auspices of Title III of the Older Americans Act as amended October 18, 1978. Mrs. Dunaway said, "The program is a very important part of the community. It provides a place where seniors can socialize, learn, and have fun. It's a great place to be."

One art that some center-goers enjoy is quilting quilts. Some of the ladies here are piecing quilts by machine. When they get the quilt piece, they will quilt it using a frame made by center manager LaRue Dunaway's husband, Bow. Pictured above (left to right) are: Gertrude Mills (holding the quilt), Leslie Trammell, Vonnelle Rushing, and Ollie Taylor.

NEW MANAGER'S SALE

Ms. Alice Kelley, new Manager of our store here in Elba invites all her customers and friends to come in and say hello and take advantage of this tremendous sale this week.

Elba played about as good in the first half last week as they have in a long time and put a win on ice only three minutes into the second half when it opened up a 28-0 lead over a good Ashford team.

The Tigers came out running straight at Ashford and beat them down the field to score on their initial drive. With the

"We don't know a whole lot about Evergreen," admitted Elba's Coach Mack Wood, "but we do know they've been up and down and are always hard to beat at home. Early in the season they were real strong on defense, and shut down some good clubs, while in recent weeks they've been a little down. Last year they had the same type club and beat Greenville down there, so we'll have to be ready.

"On offense, Evergreen runs a wishbone and has good team size and speed. They run a good variety of plays, run and throw well and try to control the ball. They have a good quarterback and a real good fullback, and will come right at you with power plays. Over on defense they line up in a 7-1 and a 5-3 and it looks like a goal-line defense all over the field. Evergreen is real big in the line and they try to take away your running game. They're kind of loose in the secondary, but are quick and can cover a lot of ground. Evergreen is not that bad - it will take a good effort to pull out a win."

"For us to win," added Wood, "we will have to play as good as we have the last two weeks and make no mistakes. We will have to be sound on both sides of the ball and the kicking game. On offense we will have to block their big men and run our base offense, while on defense we will have to play consistently all the time and play as well as we can. It will be a tough game and I hope we will rise to the challenge."

When asked about the win over Ashford last week, Wood stated, "We played well when we had to and I was pleased with the win. We had a letdown when we got away ahead, but I was proud of the win, and it's always nice to win on the road. Ashford played us real good in the second half. We were able to complete some passes in the first half to get the lead and ran the ball well against their loaded defense. I hoped to get more boys in the game, but it didn't work out."

"Our offense played good in the first half and only so-so in the second. The passing game was working and the running game moved well early in the game. I was proud of the offense for scoring 21 points. On defense we were a lot more inconsistent, but overall we did okay. We played real well at times and real poorly at others. The defense broke through in the third quarter because it got complacent. We did pass some licks on defense, and it was a pretty good team effort."

The big news in local football circles has been the war being waged in Class A, Area 3, between McKenzie, Brantley and Dozier, all of whom seem to be headed for a tie with one loss each. However, when the tie-breaker procedure is used, it quickly becomes a two-team affair.

The Elba Raiders suffered another loss at the hands of the Red Level Tigers. The Tigers took the lead in the first quarter and held on throughout the game to post the victory. Late in the fourth quarter the Raiders' Scott Hosks scored a touchdown and gave the Raiders a chance to tie, but the extra point was not good. Leaders on defense were Bill Bennett - 6 tackles; Kenneth Chappel - 5 tackles.

If McKenzie wins its final two games it will make the playoffs, no matter what happens to Brantley and Dozier, while Brantley could sneak in possibly if they win their remaining games and McKenzie loses a game. For Dozier there are two chances slim and none!

Leaders on defense were Jeff Driggers - 8 tackles; Tracy Sanders - 7 tackles; Scott Lawless - 5 tackles; Troy Hudson - 5 tackles.

The Elba Tigers were handed their 3rd loss of the season by losing to Red Level 20-0. Red Level totally dominated the Elba Tigers offense and defense.

SCHOOL RECORD BREAKER--Kinston volleyball player Patricia Benefield (left) recently broke the school serving record when she served 15 consecutive serves in a match against Geneva played at Kinston on September 22. The score of the first game was 15-0 with Kinston leading and the host team went on to win the match. Shown with Benefield, a junior, is her coach, Amelia Rhoades. The varsity volleyball team has a 5-0 record for the season. Other team players are Leigh Ann Farris, Anita Wambles, Lertita Wood, Sherry Dunn, Rita Rawls, Angela Henderson, and Cindy Free.

I have talked with hundreds of coaches the past couple of years, both in the high school and college ranks, and they all agree we have one of the top high school coaches in the state in Mack Wood. One coach listed him in the Top 3, while another college coach put him in a Top 5 group. While I do agree, I think he should be at the top of the list - not just on it!

Coach Wood has proven this season he can produce a winning team, even when that team is in a rebuilding year, which Elba clearly is this season. Back when we lost to Laverne and Opp 1 I thought we were headed for a losing season and couldn't find more than four wins no matter how hard we looked at the schedule. However, Coach Wood somehow put the pieces back in place and made the players realize they could beat anyone if they gave a maximum effort, and here all of a sudden we are 5-3 and have a shot at making the playoffs. I know the players deserve a lot of credit, but so does Coach Wood. He wouldn't let them quit on themselves and turned them into winners.

Friday night's win over Ashford was Coach Wood's 100th career win - a landmark for all coaches. Wood is in his 15th season of coaching and owns a career record of 100 wins, 44 losses and three ties. He has come a long way from his days as a coach at Geraldine, where his first team posted a 4-5 record this only losing season as a head coach. Coach Wood came to Elba in 1977 and inherited a team that had slumped to only 19 wins in four years; and jumped in head first in an effort to turn the program around. He cleaned up the dressing rooms, painted the varsity locker room and showed everyone he wanted a first class program. Wood's enthusiasm was contagious, and all of a sudden Elba was winning again and earning the respect of everyone in the area. No doubt - Coach Wood was just what the doctor had ordered!

Now in his fifth season at the Elba helm, Coach Wood has led the Tigers to a record of 35-14 and a playoff berth. This season, despite an obvious lack of outstanding athletes, Elba is still winning and fighting for a trip to the playoffs. You know your program is in good shape when you can win and be in the running for the playoffs in an "off year," but that's what we have - a good program - and Coach Mack Wood deserves much of the credit.

"Our offense played good in the first half and only so-so in the second. The passing game was working and the running game moved well early in the game. I was proud of the offense for scoring 21 points. On defense we were a lot more inconsistent, but overall we did okay. We played real well at times and real poorly at others. The defense broke through in the third quarter because it got complacent. We did pass some licks on defense, and it was a pretty good team effort."

TIGERS SMASH ASHFORD 28-6

The Elba Tigers presented Coach Mack Wood with his 100th career victory last Friday night when they defeated the Ashford Yellow Jackets 28-6 in Ashford. The win upped Elba's record to 5-3, while the loss dropped Ashford's slate to 2-5.

Elba won the toss and elected to receive, and quickly gave notice of things to come by driving 64 yards in 10 plays to reach paydirt. Senior quarterback Mike Amison ran for 17 yards during the march, including a big 5-yard scamper on a fourth down and 4 that kept the drive alive! Mark Henderson added 20 yards on only three carries during the opening drive, while the score came on an 18-yard run by Ted Horstead. Dwayne Hooks kicked the extra point to give Elba a 7-0 lead with 7:00 left in the opening stanza.

Ashford managed only one first down before being forced to punt, and Elba again struck quickly to up its lead to 14-0. The Tigers put the ball in play on the 26-yard line and moved across midfield behind the running of Henderson and Horstead. Facing a second and six, Amison crossed up the Jackets by going upstairs and fired a pass to Andy Hardwick, who made a leaping catch and then turned on the speed down the sidelines and raced untouched into the endzone for a 48-yard scoring play. Hooks added the extra point and with 1:18 still left in the first quarter Elba had pulled into a surprising 14-0 lead.

The Yellowjackets put together a drive on their next possession, moving to the Elba 26-yard line behind the running of Dennis Johnson and Robert Lewis, only to be stopped by the fired-up Elba defense on a big fourth-down play.

The two area rivals swapped punts on their next two possessions, with Elba winding up with the ball at the Ashford 48-yard line. The Tiger offense clicked on all cylinders this time and moved in for a touchdown in only three plays! A 21-yard pass from Mike Amison to Ken Yelverton got the drive started and a 14-yard run by Ted Horstead notched a second straight first down. Amison then went back to the airways and again hit Yelverton, who made a diving catch in the corner of the endzone for a touchdown. Hooks' p.a.t. split the up-rights, giving Elba a 21-0 lead with 3:53 left in the third stanza.

Ashford had to punt on its next possession, but got the ball right back on a fumble and moved in for its only score of the night. An 18-yard run by James Walker and a 12-yard pass from Johnson to Scott Rafferty sparked the drive, which was climaxed when Walker scored from three yards out. A two-point conversion failed, making the score Elba 28 - Ashford 6 with 3:22 left in the third quarter.

The Tigers were apparently content with their 28 points and made only one first down the remainder of the game. Ashford too could only get one first down in the closing 15 minutes, turning the game into a yawner! When the game finally rolled to an end, the Tigers had the win 28-6.

Ted Horstead gained 66 yards in 11 carries and caught two passes for 24 yards to lead Elba, while Mark Henderson added 60 yards in 16 totes. Mike Amison had his best passing night of the season, hitting on five of eight for 105 yards and two touchdowns. On defense, leaders were Dwayne Hooks (7 tackles - 2 assists), Steve Whitehurst (5 tackles - 1 assist), Hal Brunson (5 tackles - 3 assists), Terry Spicer (5 tackles) and Andy Hardwick (4 tackles - 1 assist - 1 interception).

Georgianna Blanks Brockton 13-0

New Brockton's Joseph Burrows (30) cuts back behind the block of Mike Dunaway (22) as he runs the ball.

BY BILLY W. WILLIAMSON

It was a long ride home last Friday night for the New Brockton Gamecocks following a disappointing 13-0 loss to the Georgianna Panthers in Georgianna.

The win upped Georgianna's record to 3-4, while New Brockton's slate dipped to 4-4.

Georgianna received the opening kick and stunted New Brockton by scoring a touchdown within the first minute of play. A 48-yard kickoff return got the Panthers off to a fast start, and on the third play of the game Lorenzo Cobb broke loose on a 24-yard jaunt into the endzone. The extra point sailed wide, but with 11:08 still left in the opening stanza, Georgianna had the lead for good at 6-0.

The Gamecocks couldn't move on its initial possession and had to punt, but got the ball back only one play later on a fumble at the Panther 22-yard line. Brockton moved to a third down and one, only to be stopped cold on two straight plays, losing the ball on downs. The two 2A rivals swapped punts on their next three possessions, but the Panthers got rolling midway through the second stanza and moved all the way to the New Brockton 16. The drive bogged down, however, and on a big fourth down play the Gamecocks took over when Clarke Whitaker sacked the Panther quarterback for a three-yard loss. The sparking defensive play seemed to awake the napping Brockton offense, as the Gamecocks began their first drive of the game. Runs by Ricky Sipper and Joseph Burrows got the drive started, and a 17-yard pass from Anthony Maddox to Bobby Smith moved the ball to the 48-yard line. Two good gains by Burrows got Brockton to the Panther 40 with 1:06 left in the half, and a run by Maddox got it to the 25 with :35 left. A pass from Maddox to Smith put the ball on the nine-yard line with 24 remaining, but a quarterback sack and an incomplete pass left Brockton at third and goal back at the 13.

A 10-yard pass from Maddox to Smith got the Gamecocks down to the three-yard line, but on the final play of the half, Mike Dunaway was stopped inches short on a play on which the Brockton fans thought their team had scored and at halftime Georgianna was still on top 6-0.

New Brockton came out fired up in the third stanza, and behind the running of Willie Lee Terry marched to the Panther 38-yard line, only to be stopped, and was forced to punt. The teams took turns punting until late in the third quarter, when Georgianna began a game-winning drive that covered 75 yards in 23 plays and ate up almost 11 minutes of the clock. The drive came almost entirely on the ground and was climaxed with 2:07 left in the game when Lorenzo Cobb bulled over from two yards out. The p.a.t. was good, giving the Panthers a 13-0 lead and putting the win on ice!

Walter Davis got the ball back for the Tigers as he intercepted a Darren Smith pass on Kinston's next possession. Davis then passed 44 yards to Mike Brundidge to set up the next score which came on a one-yard plunge by Terry McClain. Taylor finished the first half scoring at 28-6 with 5:17 to play before halftime. The two teams exchanged turnovers before the half, and Mike Swain recovered a Bulldogs' fumble just before the half.

The Bulldogs came out ready to play in the second half and put together an 11-play drive that covered 43 yards. The Tigers held on fourth down and took over on their own 27-yard line, and then drove to another score. On the eighth play of the drive, Walter Davis kept the ball around the right end for 10 yards and his second touchdown of the ballgame. Taylor kicked his fifth extra point and made the score 35-6 with 3:28 remaining in the third quarter.

The McKenzie team recovered a Shane Smith fumble on the next series of plays, giving the Tigers excellent field position on the 41-yard line of Kinston. Eight plays later, Donald Ray Stallworth passed 20 yards to Lonnie Crittenden for the game's last touchdown. Walter Davis hosted the extra point this time, and the scoring was over at 42-6 with 9:23 remaining in the ballgame.

After an exchange of punts, the Bulldogs started a drive on their own 19-yard line. Fourteen plays later, the clock ran out as Mark Taylor recovered a Larry Hattaway fumble on the two-yard line.

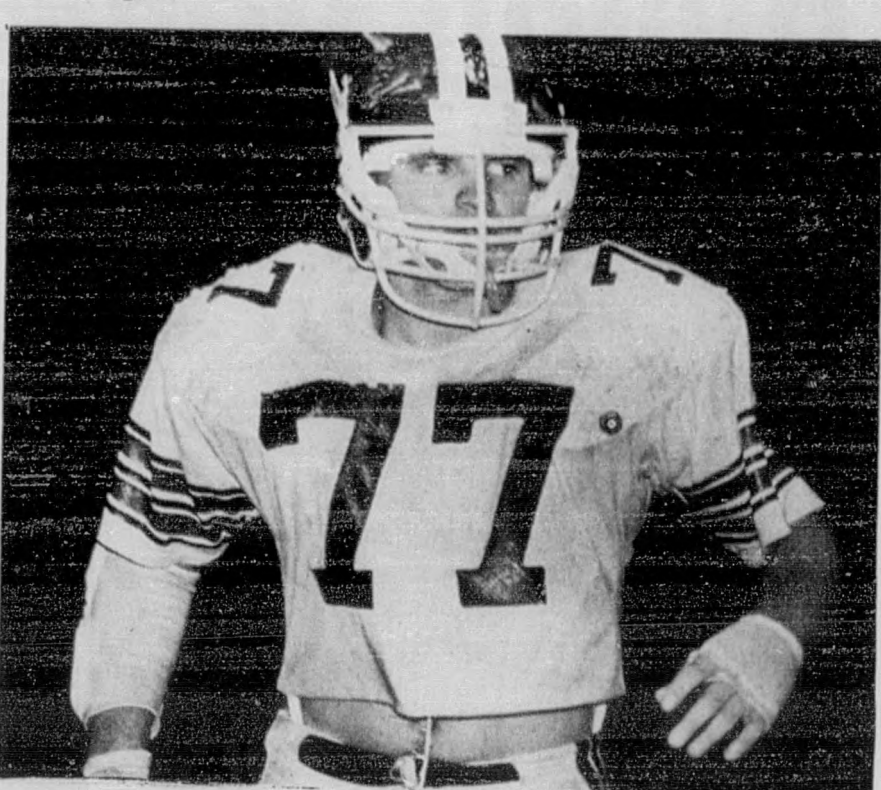

The Bulldogs were staggered by the two scoring punches, but came back fighting and promptly drove down the field for a touchdown. Mike McCollough had a big gain during the drive, as did Willie Harris, while the score came on a 28-yard scamper by John Hudson. The conversion failed, giving Elba a 20-12 lead with 5:08 left in the half. The Tigers got the ball back following a Gamecock punt and drove 60 yards to add another touchdown. A 20-yard run by McCollough and a 10-yard jaunt by Willie Harris sparked the march, while the touchdown came on a 24-yard pass from John Hudson to John Osburn. Harris added the conversion to up Elba's lead to 28-12 with 1:08 left in the half.

New Brockton took the second half kick and with the aid of penalties ran almost four minutes off the clock, but it bogged down due to penalties of their own, and the Gamecocks had to punt.

Elba pieced together its best drive of the night on the ensuing possession, and moved to the Brockton four-yard line behind the running of Hudson McCollough and Harris, only to be flagged for two holding

Then on 3rd down, Bennett broke a 36-yard run into the endzone for a Brantley T.D. The extra point was good and the score was Brantley 7 - Z.C. 0.

On first down Brantley took a five-yard Salter broke loose for 24 yards and a Bulldog first down on the 50-yard line. On the next eight plays Brantley gained 42 yards and three first downs. On the kickoff, Zion's Daniel Sanders ran the ball back for 26 yards. On first down Flowers carried for two yards and quarterback Davis gained six more on second. On 3rd, Flowers got a Z.C. first, but then the Rebels lost yardage. On first down Z.C. took a 15-yard penalty. Still on first down the quarterback was sacked for a 10-yard loss and on second was dropped for 15 more to give Zion 3rd and 40 yards for a first. On Z.C. 21-yard line. On first down quarterback Chandler connected with end Mark Hill for 21 yards and another Brantley T.D. The two-point conversion failed and the score was Brantley 20 - Z.C. 0.

Zion's Amlong took the kickoff back for 11 yards and on second down Davis connected with Donny Davis for 18 yards and a Z.C. first. But on fourth down, the Rebels failed to connect for a first, and Brantley took over on their own 10-yard line. Brantley gained a first down, but on the next attempt a pass intended for Mark Hill was intercepted by Zion's Jeff Amlong in the endzone and Z.C. took over on their own 20-yard line. Brantley took a 15-yard penalty and Zion missed a pass completion and the first half ended with the score Brantley 20 - Z.C. 0.

The Bulldogs kicked off to Z.C. and on first down gave up five yards to the Rebels on penalties. Elba couldn't score following the big walkoffs, but did tally early in the final stanza following an interception by Tim Flowers. The score came on a 10-yard run by Mike McCollough and Brantley Elba's lead to 34-12 with 5:02 left in the game.

an offside penalty. Zion failed to gain a first and had to punt away to Brantley.

The Bulldogs took the ball and in five downs marched 47 yards downfield for another Brantley touchdown. The extra point went through and the score climbed to 33-0.

Zion took the kickoff and ran it back 14 yards, but on second down suffered a holding penalty, and on a repeat down, fumbled the ball in the endzone and recovered to give Brantley a 2-point safety moving the score to Brantley 35 - Z.C. 0. Zion had to free-kick to the Bulldogs, and they took the ball and drove 48 yards downfield for three first downs; but came up short on fourth and Zion took over. On Zion's best drive of the last five games, Flowers and Sanders drove the ball 83 yards downfield with Daniel taking the ball over from the one-yard line for a Zion Chapel touchdown. The extra point was blocked, and the game ended with the score Brantley 35 - Z.C. 6.
